IN DEDICATION

Dr. Henry E. White died during the summer of 1954 at St. Bernard's Hospital in Jonesboro following an illness of several weeks. With his passing, American Education lost a man who had devoted much of his adult life to teaching. His teaching career was long and varied. He taught in high schools in Louisiana, Kentucky, and Idaho. He traveled in many foreign lands and taught in the American University of Beirut, Beirut, Syria. From 1933 until 1935, Dr. White was an assistant in Rural Economy at Cornell. He came to Arkansas State in 1938 to head the Department of Agriculture and later became professor of agriculture economics.

We respectfully dedicate this book to Dr. White — and to the spirit which he personified — that spirit of self-sacrifice which has made American Education the finest thing in our way of life.

THE CAMPUS

Arkansas State College's campus is one of the most beautiful in the South. Rolling green expanses of grass, shaded by beautiful trees, lend the ideal college atmosphere that means so much to us during our formative years. The classrooms and residence halls of the College have been placed not only with an eye to utility but to beauty as well. And, although we sometimes wish our campus was more compactly laid out when we hurry to that early class, we know that in these broad lawns lie room for expansion; and, we are glad that we have left room for the future.

On the next few pages we have presented some of the scenes from our college life: scenes of progress, scenes of play, and of study.

ARRIVAL—Ray H. Hall, public relations director of the College, was on hand to greet returning students and welcome new comers to the campus.

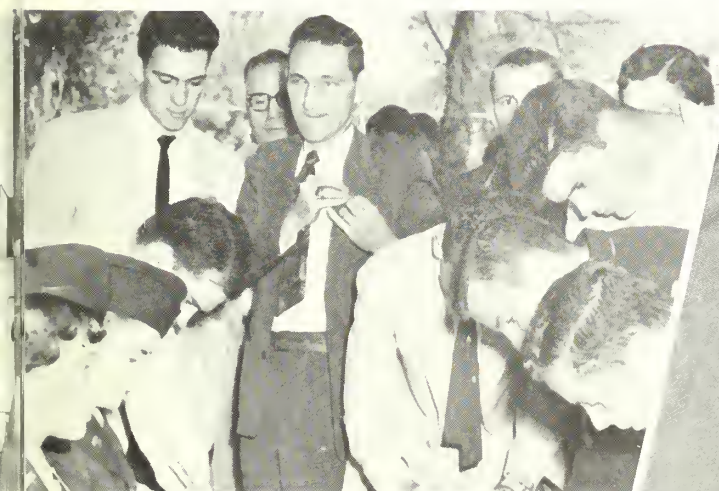

SAY AH! — Freshmen and newcomers go through the College-required physical.

STUDY—"There's no accounting for this accounting." "I wonder if my hair-do does the most for me?"

SESSION — Coeds indulge in number-one pastime. "Wouldn't you just love to hear what those boys in Danner and Commons talks about during their bull-sessions?"

WELCOME — Innumerable groups visited us during the year, and some of State's ambassadors were always on hand to welcome them.

HOCUS-POCUS — Dr. Reng performs another astounding feat.

PROGRESS — With the increased enrollment, new parking space had to be provided for State's automobile-minded students.

KING COTTON—Agriculture students observe workings of picker which harvests area's money crop.

INTERLUDE — Tom Cooke and Sue Johnson in a quiet moment.

EXPLANATION — Students learn what makes them tick.

SERIOUS MOMENT — Student symposia learn the workings of American Government.

ON THE AIR — President Reng and Hal King, KBTM station manager, complete arrangements to put the College station on the air.

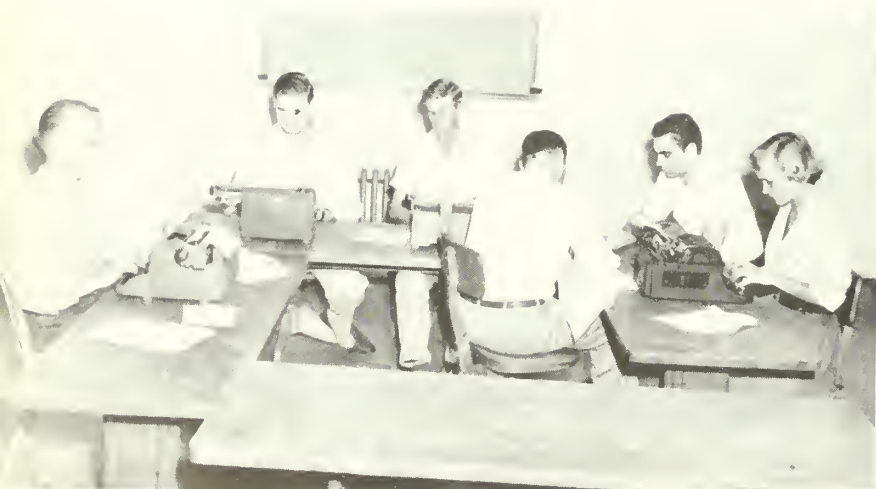

REHEARSAL — Cast of "The Philadelphia Story" work long and late to bring entertainment to the student body.

EXCUSE ME!—"I'm just passing through on my way to the cow college at Conway. And thereby hangs a tale."

REGISTRATION — Students puzzle over the intricacies of the ever-changing registration procedures.

DEADLINE — Members of the radio journalism class prepare copy for presentation over the College station.

JUBLIATION — Alpha Gams take first place in annual AOPi - sponsored All Greek Song Fest.

PEP RALLY—Majorettes and Band stir up school spirit for Big Red Team.

STAND BY — College finally goes on the air with regularly-scheduled broadcasts.

GASLIGHT — Sue Johnson brings out the rascal in Rufus Litell in a risqué scene from the thriller presented by the College Theatre.

GET YOURS HERE — We don't know what Red Eye is selling but business seems to be good. Just look at all those empties.

Primary objectives of the 4-year agricultural program at the College are to give thorough preparation in the science and basic practices of agriculture and to provide a liberal yet practical general education.

Located in one of the nation's richest agricultural areas, the College farms are well equipped with ample facilities and machinery for instruction in every phase of agriculture. The Department is fully approved by the United States Office of Education and by the State Board for Vocational Education of Arkansas as a teacher-training institution for vocational agriculture teachers.

Herald editors get together on sports copy.

A graphic illustration of a spotlight beam shining from the top left corner onto a dark, textured background. The beam is a bright, white, conical shape that tapers as it descends. At the base of the beam, the word "FRESHMEN" is written in a bold, italicized, black serif font. The text is centered within a white, horizontally-oriented oval that serves as the focal point of the light.

"Gaslight" was only one of three plays presented by the College Theatre this year. Under the direction of Richard Meyer, the College group has consistently presented technically excellent entertainment. In addition to "Gaslight," "The Philadelphia Story" and "Ondine" were presented this year. The local production was the first time "Ondine" had been produced off of Broadway.

After compiling an almost perfect record last year, which led to the Tangerine Bowl, the '54 Indians went lapse. Plagued by injuries throughout the season, the Tribe could not hold back the stronger, heavier foe. The opening game saw the Big Red Team's only victory as they downed the Fliers of Lewis College 25 to 7. From the opening kickoff to the final horn the stalwart Indians gained both on the ground and through the air as the Fliers from Lockport, Illinois could not withhold the fighting tribe. We saw Eddie Romeo, the swivelhipped, Brooklyn back, scamper for the distance on two occasions. Holes opened by the powerful line led by J. L. Johnson, Tom Blagg, and Joe Armenio enabled the Redmen to pick up 17 first downs and 347 yards from the line of scrimmage while holding the Fliers to a mere 33 yards of rushing.

One of many first half fumbles by Memphis State was quickly saved by the Tigers' Jimmy Cole (45), who barely made the recovery ahead of Arkansas State's Richard Woodruff.

Coach Glen Harmeson warned the Indians that they'll have to play more consistent football next week-end "if we're even to stay in the same ball park with Mississippi State. Well, we stayed in the same park with the Maroons from Starkville, Miss. for three quarters, but the last period of the game was just the beginning of what was to occur throughout the remainder of the season. The Indians were trailing 13-20 at the three quarter mark but the more experienced and heavier Maroons tallied for 26 points in the last 15 minutes of play to win the game 46 to 13. Paul Stovall, the speedy halfback from Hughes, caught a terrific block in the face after kicking off at the start of the second half. He was taken to Baptist Hospital in Memphis where they discovered his jaw was broken on both sides. This hurt the tribe more than losing the game, for Stovall was through for the season, a victim of poor sportsmanship on the part of a Mississippi State player.

The Indians, still seeking their first road victory took on the roaring Lions of Florence, Alabama and were romped on again. Florence, operating smoothly from a devatating single wing offense, scored the first time they got possession of the ball. They added another touchdown in the second quarter and led at halftime 13-0. The Indians could not get going in the second half and expert tackling and blocking enabled the Lions again to out-play the Tribe and pick up two more T.D.'s in the final quarter. The Red-men picked up their only touchdown when Harvey Hill faded back from the Indian's 21 and dropped a screen pass into the eager hands of halfback Bill Templeton. Templeton raced 70 yards to score, and then converted to make it 26-7. Someone suggested to Coach Harmeson that perhaps it was too much line play on the part of the Lions. "It was too much everything," admitted the Coach remorsefully.

For the first time in the history of the College an Arkansas State athletic team traveled by air. The Indians boarded a plane and flew to Lafayette, La., for their game with Southwest Louisiana Institute. The Bulldogs scored at will and the bewildered Indians suffered their third straight defeat on the road. The Redskin offense was lifeless against the "brick wall" line of Louisiana and State's only score came when Dan Spensieri charged into the end zone and brought down Morris Millett for two points. The early lead was shortlived as the onrushing Bulldogs came tearing back to score in every period and rack up a 36-2 victory. In an effort to find the right combination, Coach Harmeson started an all freshman team in the third quarter but they too could not stop the oncoming SLI team.

With a one win and three loss record, the Redskins returned to Kay's Field to face the snarling Lions of Southeastern Louisiana College for the annual Homecoming Day. A gigantic pep rally was held the night before the game and the war drums beat 'til the wee hours of the morning. A brilliant array of multi-colored floats circled through town and around the stadium but Homecoming was spoiled as the rampaging Lions trampled the Indians 51-0. Led by their ace quarterback Ray "Koon" Porta and halfbacks Larry Troxler and Don Marino, S. E. Louisiana boasted a half-time lead of 38-0. The Lion's reserves played the entire second half and added 13 more points to the slaughter. Despite the onesided affair, powerful Joe Armenio and Billy Templeton played with fighting fury in a vain attempt to halt the Southeastern powerhouse. It was the fourth defeat in a row for State and hopes of a winning season were flying by.

The Tribe suffered its sixth straight defeat at the hands of Austin College of Sherman, Texas by a wide margin of 61-20. The Kangaroos ran all over Kay's Field as they scored nine touchdowns and picked up 440 yards from the line of scrimmage by rushing.

Tommy Spiers, the Indian's passing ace, led the attack in the first half as the Tribe hit paydirt three times — all via the airlines. Tommy hit seven out of eight attempts, including two for touchdowns. In addition, he caught a Bobby Spann heave for a score and kicked two extra points. The Indian offense could not get moving in the second half as Spiers left the game early in the third quarter with a leg injury. The Kangaroo offense consisted of a tricky quarterback, Don Watson, and a host of hard-running, side-stepping backs.

The Indians bowed to the revenge-hungry Memphis Tigers for their fifth straight loss at Crump Stadium on Oct. 30. Constantly pushed back into their own territory, the Indians were unable to cope with hard-charging Memphis State line, and the Memphis backs found the Indian defense easy pickings for short, but consistent gains through the line. As usual, the hard working Indian backfield had to carry the ball on defense as well as offense. Final score: Memphis State 26. Arkansas State 6.

The Redskin Roundballers, led by the very capable John "Boo Hoo" Rauth, got off to a very slow start this year, but hustle and fight enabled them to compile a 13-11 record. This was enough to give us a crack at the AIC title with a powerful Arkansas Tech five the main obstacle in our course.

A large crowd was on hand at the Little Rock Central High Gymnasium which consisted mainly of Tech and State rooters. From the opening jump to the game ending buzzer, Tech's Wonder Boys dominated the play. The final score was 92-76 and our bid for the title was spoiled once more by Arkansas Tech's powerful quintet.

Jim Ward, our 6'4" forward, was easily the Tribe's most valuable player, as he led the Indian's offensive attack while breaking the post-war scoring record with a remarkable total of 497 points. Ward not only excelled in scoring but also cleared the boards 351 times and was the team's leading rebounder.

Bill Gatlin was second in the Tribe scoring parade with 375 points. Bill's jump shot and excellent "ball Hawking" tactics was a continuous thorn in the side of every opposing team.

Jakie King was third in scoring with 260 points and his elusive dribbling enabled us to hold the ball in the waning minutes of many a close game.

The fine ball handling of Ray Gilliam set up many baskets during the season and his defensive play bottled up many opposing players. Ray chipped in with 206 points and 113 rebounds.

The old "Mover," as Rich McNece was nicknamed by his teammates, moved himself quite well, to the dismay of many players on opposing teams. The lanky 6'5" center threw in 206 points and grabbed 182 rebounds which was second best in that department.

McNece, King, and Gilliam all graduate this year and hence comes an end to their successful 4-year stay with the Indians. All three of them lettered every year at State and started almost every game this year. Coach Rauth will have a hard time replacing these boys next year, but with a host of returning veterans such as "Gunner" Gatlin, Jim Ward, "Jug" Chapple, Bobbie Hicks, and the "fan's favorite," Murphy Spurlock, the roundballers will be on their way again to a fine season on the hardwood.

Players of both sides hit the floor in rough and tumble contest with Southwestern's Lynx.

THE CROSSETT COMPANY

MANUFACTURERS OF FOREST PRODUCTS

CROSSETT, ARKANSAS

Miss Smith
Please type this up and forward to our advertising agency.

Dear Ed,

How about inserting an ad in some college year books and let's see if we can't interest some of the graduates in our work down here.

As you know, we are always on the look out for an alert graduate that will fit in with The Crossett Company. Too darn many of them are leaving the state just because they aren't aware of the opportunities here. So let's have the ad point out that industry here in Arkansas is always ready to lend a hand in helping graduates find good jobs.

We might also stress some of our employees' benefits such as group insurance, retirement plan, etc. Tell them we employ around 2,000 persons.

Let's also give them a little info about The Crossett Company, such as, that it's been doing business for more than 50 years, that we are a leading manufacturer of lumber, paper and wood chemicals. And don't forget to mention our forest management program that will mean jobs from now on.

Better tell them something about Crossett, too. Let them know we have one of the finest school systems in the state, an excellent hospital, plenty of churches, low crime rate, low taxes, and lots of recreation facilities.

Don't oversell it however. Just let them know that The Crossett Company is a darn good employer and that we'd like to see applications from any graduate that is interested.

I'll look forward to seeing proofs.

Best personal regards
Joe
